It's been a crazy Spring for many of us. NODA's first show of the season at Blue Moon Stables was well attended. If you were there as a spectator or a participant, we hope you enjoyed your experience. If you took pictures and would like to share them, please send to Linda Cooley, webmaster@nodarider.org. Be sure to identify the folks in the photos and the photographer. We will try to get them in the newsletter and on the website.

The memorial for Gretchen Singleton on May 2nd at TRC was a wonderful tribute. Nancy Smith moderated, and many of Gretchen's students, friends and family members told stories and shared memories of a much loved friend, teacher, and equestrian. This memorial was a celebration of Gretchen's life with much laughter and more than a few tears. I think we all left with the desire to be better people.

I bet you didn't know that last year only 19 NODA members sponsored classes for NODA's Recognized Show? As of May 12th we have 255 members. Those 19 people represent 8% of NODA's membership. I for one was very surprised. Other than membership fees, The Recognized Shows in July are the only big fund raising opportunity that NODA has. For $20 you can sponsor a class in memory of a favorite horse or a loved one. You can also sponsor a class in the name of parent or a friend. Why don't you and others from your barn get together and sponsor a class or two? You could just say "Good Luck to all Competitors" from Name your Facility. Please support your Dressage Club and sponsor a class.

The Charles de Kunffy demonstration and lecture on May 14th was very well attended. Charles gave the more than 65 people in attendance not just information about proper lungeing, but also information about riding and the relationship between rider and horse. A big "Thank You" to Topline Stable for hosting, letting us borrow Charles for a couple of hours and supplying demo horses and riders for this educational event. Thanks also to Marcia Doyle and her team of volunteers for getting the event together. Whenever something like this happens you can be sure that a lot of people supplied a lot of volunteer hours to make it work.

Greetings from the President

Dear NODA Members,

We want your feedback about putting the Newsletter online. What feedback we have gotten from members so far has been positive. Don't forget to send the "Opt Out" form if you do not have email or you have dial up. This June issue will be your last hard copy.

The Newsletter is in need of articles. We want to keep the content about you and your dressage or horse experiences. Did you attend a clinic or other educational event that you would like to share with the rest of NODA? Did you and your horse share an experience at home? Earn NODA bucks toward year end awards or the banquet or show entry fees. We also would love to have you share your pictures.

We had a fabulous response to the t-shirt art contest for the Recognized Show. The members of the board viewed the anonymous entries and narrowed it down to the two that they thought would work best on our volunteer t-shirt. It was a very difficult decision as all the artwork was wonderful. We hope to share it all in the newsletter and on the website in upcoming months. Thank you to everyone who participated.

As I write this, we are only two weeks away from June. I see a busy summer ahead of us and look forward to the bright sunshine, and some cool trail rides.

British Horse Society Testing at Delaware Valley College

By: Clara Etzel

After eight months of preparation, on May 11, 2010 I and the other BHS girls embarked on a 12 hour journey towards Delaware Valley College in Doylestown, Pennsylvania for our BHS exams. Most of the girls were taking their Stage 2 exam (as we all had already taken our Stage 1 at Albion College). However, I and one other student from Albion decided to take our Stage 2, Stage 3 and Prelim Teaching Test. My decision to take all three remaining exams in order to achieve my British Horse Society Assistant Instructor certification meant 2 days of non-stop testing, which I was ready for.

The drive to Doylestown, which is south of Philadelphia seemed like an eternity, as we left at 6:00 in the morning and passed through Michigan, Ohio and almost all of Pennsylvania to get to our destination. I would also like to point out that we drove through torrential downpours the entire time and even encountered snow on I-80 in Pennsylvania. The drive provided the four of us in the van valuable time to study and master any material that we were still unsure about. That evening once we had arrived at the hotel, we unpacked, went out to dinner and I even managed to work out before going back to the room to study and sleep. Testing began at Delaware Valley College the next morning at 8:00 AM.

Testing on Wednesday May 12 was all of Stage 2 and from 4:00 PM-6:00PM was part of Stage 3. There were 18 students taking Stage 2 and we were divided into groups of six. The testing was composed of flatwork (riding two different horses), jumping a 2'6" course (riding two different horses), lunging a horse, practical (tacking up, traveling) and practical oral (barn management, horse health). At the end of the day the Stage 3 candidates tacked up for cross country and dressage, prepared a horse to travel (while checking a trailer and truck over) and discussed bits and their uses. After testing was over, the girls from Albion went to a local market to eat dinner, followed by a stop at Planet Smoothie. Once we got back to the hotel it was time for me to work out, study for the rest of my Stage 3 exam and Prelim Teaching Test before bed.

My day started at 5:45AM on Thursday May 13, as I had to get up and write out eight potential lesson plans, one of which the examiners would ask me to teach. Testing started at 8:00 AM and began with a discussion of business theory and other topics, one lecture from each candidate, a lead-rein or lunge line lesson and a group lesson on the flat or over fences. My lecture was on the roles and responsibilities of a coach. Then I taught a lead-rein lesson, followed by a jumping lesson, in which riders rode through a grid of fences. After the teaching finished, the examiners de-briefed the candidates on what they liked or did not like about our coaching and tips for the future. The afternoon was comprised of the rest of Stage 3, stadium jumping (3'3"), cross-country (3'), flatwork and practical oral. Testing ended at 4:00 PM, at which time the other two girls were waiting in the van to pick us up and begin our long journey home. After a long and once again, rainy drive back to Albion, we arrived home at 3:40 AM and were all very much ready to fall asleep :). The two days of testing went as well as they could have gone, in my opinion and with results coming by post in two weeks, I am keeping my fingers crossed that I was up to standard :).

Editor's note: Best Wishes Clara!

Charles de Kunffy Clinic

Correct Lungeing of the Horse and Rider

By: Lora Szloh

NODA was pleased to present a clinic devoted to the principles of correct lungeing of the horse and rider with Charles de Kunffy on Friday, May 14th at Topline Stables at Walden, in Aurora.

Charles de Kunffy was born into Hungarian nobility, and most of his family rode horses. He attended a riding school very similar to the Spanish riding school in Vienna. The methods were the same, strict concentration of the rider developing a seat before anything else. New students spent about a year on the lunge line before moving on to anything else. Having visited that school in Vienna, I am impressed to see the kind of horsemanship those techniques instill in the student.

Charles de Kunffy

Prior to the actual start of the clinic, more than 70 attendees had an hour to snack on delicious appetizers and catch up with horse friends we don't see as much as we'd like to.

Charles began his entertaining and informative lecture by addressing the equipment for lungeing and the proper use and benefits of the different kinds of equipment.

Lungeing the horse

Charles first discussed the lungeing cavesson. He advocates using the central ring for both directions, rather than changing sides. He then talked about the side reins, and his dislike for the type with the rubber donut was apparent and hilarious. He demonstrated how it would take about 80 pounds of pull to engage any give. It's apparent most of us have our side reins too short, and he demonstrated how to gauge the correct length for the horse so that when the horse gives in poll, there is a slight loop in the side reins. Charles also pointed out that the side reins must never be different lengths. He showed us the correct use of the lunge whip, and emphasized that the person lungeing the horse should not move from her position, but simply pivot as the horse moves around her. The ideal length of time to lunge is 30 total minutes, with the intent to supple the horse, not to take the steam out. He said you must change sides every ten minutes.

Janeen Langowski-Grava came into the arena with Lego, her FEI

Holsteiner gelding. Under Charles's direction, Janeen lunged Lego on the circle, then over a single pole, then over four poles set in a slight fanlike placement. We watched as Lego found the proper distance for himself at the working trot. Charles had the poles set into a tiny oxer, and Janeen lunged Lego over the jump. It was clear that Lego was enjoying it, and Charles discussed how important it is to change things for the horse, not only to keep him fresh, but to develop his body.

Moving to the long lines, Charles strongly emphasized that it takes years of study to learn to long line correctly. Janeen attached the long lines to Lego and again, under Charles's direction, worked the horse at the trot and passage. Charles asked Janeen to shorten the lines and move so that she was beside the horse's inside flank, and with a few minor adjustments, Lego's trot changed dramatically.

Lungeing the rider

Working with two riders on horses and another person to lunge each horse, Charles positioned the riders by first having them draw their shoulders back and down until the shoulder blades felt flat and about two inches apart, lifting the ribcage and putting the chest way out. He had them bring their hands knuckle to knuckle – without reins -- and ride in this position at walk. Charles asked them to demonstrate stretching exercises, such as bringing the leg away from saddle three times, and bending the side and back to touch hand to opposite calf. Both riders, though very fit looking, found these exercises kind of challenging, I wondered how I would fare in my state of extra weight.

There was plenty of time at the end for questions, which Charles graciously and thoroughly answered. After the end of the Q&A, NODA raffled off two books authored by Charles and generously donated by The Paddock Saddlery. Charles autographed both books for the winners. He has offered to lecture on another subject when he comes back to Topline in October. Perhaps NODA will take him up on his offer.

Funding Available for Educational Programs

Every year The Dressage Foundation has substantial funds available to provide financial assistance to USDF GMOs for educational clinics, seminars, and symposia. The largest of these funds is the Violet M. Hopkins Fund.

The maximum amount to be awarded will be $2,000 per application. GMOs can receive a grant only once in any given calendar year.

Online applications are available at www.DressageFoundation.org, click on Funds and Programs, then Help with Educational Clinics/Seminars/Symposia.

It is required that applications reach the Foundation office at least 90 days in advance of the event.

Nineteen grants were awarded in 2009 for a total of $24,750!

NODA Board Meeting Minutes - April 12, 2010

By Mary Jo Keptner

Meeting Location: The Paddock Saddlery in Chagrin Falls

Attending: Robyn Ambrose, Carol Cassano, Fran Cverna, Rob Ellins, Mary Lou Gallagher, Lisa Gorretta, Marcia Doyle, Mary Jo Keptner, Jennifer Kick, Kathy Kirchner, Dale Lappert, Dee Lieben-thal, Kim Moody, Gail Patton, Mary Dana Prescott, Carey Smith, Lora Szloh

Call to Order: Dee Lieben-thal, President, called the meeting to order at 7:12PM.

Treasurer's Report: Jennifer Kick

Balance in checking is $4387.02, balance in savings is $5001.73 for a total of $9388.75.

The insurance renewal form has been completed and returned.

Handbook Report: Dale for Rosemary Rufo

The handbook will be out this week.

Membership Report: Dee for Alice Brightup

Total membership is now 223 including 45 professionals and 31 Jr/YR.

External Relations: Lisa Gorretta

USDF dues will increase in 2011 by $3.00.

Newsletter Report: Dee for Niki Sackman

Discussion on "Going Green." Dee moved to have the newsletter delivered both by email and regular mail for three months.

Webmaster Report: Dee for Linda Cooley

Several broadcast emails have been sent out recently to announce upcoming events.

Awards Report: Dee for Janeen Langowski-Grava

Email any ideas for the instructor's award to Janeen.

Education Report: Marcia Doyle

Update on the de Kunffy lecture and demo. Registrations have started coming in.

Lisa talked about what the Dressage Foundation does. One of those things is to help fund GMOs' educational events. The Foundation has asked the GMOs to put ads for the Foundation in their newsletters and on their websites.

Lisa reported on her preliminary meeting with LEC. NODA would like to use their classroom to hold the new test lecture with Margaret Freeman.

Discussion on having a training day for volunteers. It would not be a requirement, just an opportunity to learn. Dale offered to judge some demo rides with several learner scribes.

Recognized Show Report: Robyn Ambrose

Hotel rates are set and officials' rooms are booked. Officials' flights are being booked.

Robyn showed us a picture of what the wine glasses would look like with our club name and logo engraved.

Robyn said Jeni Gaffney sent her an idea for fund raising by having fun freestyle rides at the show.

Schooling Shows Report: Kim Moody

Entries have opened for the first show of the year - May 2 at Blue Moon Stables.

Bylaws Report: Dale and Dee

The first meeting was held March 24th and the second one will be April 19th.

Banquet Report: Carol Cassano

Plans are being made to have the banquet at the Crowne Plaza in Independence.

Historian Report:

Fran read a report from the data management system committee requesting permission to purchase additional computer storage space. The board approved the purchase not to exceed $250.

Old Business:

Dee ask us to think about how we want to use Facebook.

Adjournment: The meeting was adjourned at 9:00PM. The next meeting will be held at 7:00PM on Monday, May 10, 2010 at The Paddock Saddlery.
