Greetings from the President

You also might want to consider donating something to the silent auction, or maybe your barn would like to put a basket together for the auction. We will have a contest again this year, and award a Pizza Party to the donor or donors of the item or basket that brings the highest bid. Please come and join in the fun. For information, contact Patty Keim at SilentAuction@nodarider.org.

Dear Members,
Congratulations to all the NODA members who qualified for Regionals this year. We have a list of NODA's Regional competitors in this issue of the NODA News. We wish all of you heading for USDF Dressage Finals in November good luck and good riding.

We had a large number of members qualify for our Schooling Show Championships this year. By the time you read this letter, the open and championship Shows will be over, and I hope everyone that participated had a wonderful time. It was a really good schooling show series this year with record entries for almost all our shows. Thank you again Sally Burton, Jennifer Tulleners, Kirstin Thomas, and Mary Lou Gallagher. Great Job!

We are working hard on the Year-end Banquet and Awards Celebration. In this month's edition of the NODA News please make note of all the Banquet and Silent Auction information. You will receive your invitation in the mail, but the invitation will also be available on the NODA website. We are very pleased to announce that Lisa Gorretta has agreed to speak about her experience in Rio at the Olympics. You don't want to miss it. Remember, you do not have to have applied for an award to attend. This is a celebration of everyone's year of horse fun and accomplishment. A celebration of you!

NODA is looking for someone who would like to come on board as our Jr/YR Liaison. This is an immediate opening for someone who can work on specific events or projects for our youth and young riders. Please contact Kathy Kirchner at MemberRep@nodarider.org, if you are interested in this important and fulfilling position.

As we know, all good things must come to an end, and we are sad to say that this will be Shannon O'Hara's last year as Banquet Chair. We thank her and appreciate all she has contributed over the past three years. If you or someone you know is interested in chairing the banquet committee for 2017, we would love to hear from you and are happy to answer questions about the position. Contact Kathy Kirchner for more information at MemberRep@nodarider.org.

NODA is fortunate to have many sponsors and advertisers. We are extremely grateful for their support and contributions to our Recognized Shows, Schooling Shows and our Annual Banquet and Awards Celebration. Please support those that support NODA.

Happy October,
Dee Liebenthal, President

2016 NODA Member Survey Results & Appeal to Members

On our 2016 membership form, NODA included a short survey to find out more about our members, and their relationship with the organization. Below are the results of the survey. Thank you to everyone who answered our questions. This will help us to assess our efforts to better connect with our members, to know what services our members are utilizing and taking advantage of, and also to know what our members are giving back to us as volunteers.

276 (86%) of our members responded to questions on the 2016 membership form:

- 22 (7 %) were board members
- 75 (23 %) were schooling show volunteers
- 44 (14 %) were recognized show volunteers
- 82 (26 %) competed in recognized shows
- 101 (31 %) competed in schooling shows

In reviewing the results above, we are thrilled to see that almost 60% of our members have participated in our schooling and recognized shows!! NODA is very proud to be offer these opportunities to our members, and the surrounding community each year. This year we had seven schooling shows, the schooling show championship, and the recognized show & encore shows. It takes countless volunteer hours in every aspect to make these shows a reality. While nearly 60% of members showed, only 39% had volunteered at the shows, and 7% volunteered as board members.

To put it bluntly: these shows cannot exist and this organization cannot succeed without volunteer support from our members. We are extremely grateful for those who have taken the time out of their busy schedules to help us with everything from schooling shows to board positions, articles and photos for the newsletter, but we are still finding ourselves with barely enough volunteers to make ends meet. We currently have several board positions open that we will need to fill. Many of our board members have volunteered their time year after year to our organization, and it's time to hand over the torch. I am looking at you—younger, up and coming members!! Dee's letter this month discusses several of these opportunities! Please keep an eye out on NODA's Facebook, website and future newsletters for additional information on open board positions, as well as other volunteer opportunities open to members. We are extremely lucky to have an organization like NODA in our area and it's our responsibility as members to make sure the organization continues to succeed into the future!!

Hidden Treasures: Highland Meadows

By Sally Burton

Have you ever wondered what other barns look like? Have you wanted to be a fly on a wall and check them out? Did you enjoy our preview article last month about Piccolo Pines? This new series called Hidden Treasures will introduce you to many of the local barns in our area. Monthly articles written by Sally Burton and Sarah Freeman will take you inside these barns for a look at our many Hidden Treasures.

The feeling of peace and tranquility fills the land known as Highland Meadows, owned by Victoria Patterson-Pirko. The 30 plus minute drive from “in town” gives you time to relax and leave the troubles of real life behind. As you pull into the short drive way, you look ahead into the barn knowing there are seven eager horses waiting to see you for snuggles and love. The barn, a repurposed cow barn originally built in the 1950's, now holds nine stalls. Most of the stalls measure 10 by 18 feet with a walk out back door that opens into several 2 acre pastures and paddocks that the horses are free to roam at will. The stalls are built from wood from the property and have the unique feature of removable walls. So one large sized stall can easily become double in size for a horse who needs stall rest or a larger home. Each stall also has a separate electric outlet so fans and lights can be personalized to each horse's needs. The stalls have been picked clean and are deeply bedded with over six inches of pine shavings. The barn has high ceilings with alfalfa stored above for the older equines who are lucky to call Highland Meadows their home. Cats mill about, totally comfortable in their oasis, sitting on hay bales, meowing from the loft above, or looking to cuddle with the closest human.

The tack room holds all the gear necessary to keep the horses happy in their work and includes a refrigerator that has been fashioned into saddle storage maintaining proper humidity and temperature year round to ensure a long life for the saddles that lie within. The aisle is comfortably wide and easily accommodates a horse in cross ties and various tack hanging off strategically placed hooks throughout. The horses are calm and quiet in their stalls with the option of exploring the out of doors if the mood strikes.

Walking out the back door of the barn takes you into a very spacious indoor ring with huge windows on the wall that open to let fresh air and breezes in to the ring. Two doors mid- way through the ring and a front and rear door that are easily opened give the airy feel of riding outside without the beating sun overhead. The footing is excellent and is kept damp using a creative watering system designed (as have many of the farms unique features) by Victoria's late husband Rick that uses captured rain water making the 70 by 200 foot indoor a dream to ride in. Jump poles line the walls for those wanting to work on cavaletti or jumping. A homemade 4 step mounting block is easily accessible and makes climbing on to a 17+ hand horse a breeze. There are mirrors placed strategically along the ring that make checking your form an easy task, but if that is too daunting you can always look out the open windows for the terrific views outside of the ring!

Next to the indoor ring is a huge, brand new building, currently filled with eight hay wagons stuffed with 2300 bales of hay that was all grown on the 25 acres of hay fields on the property. Another storage building houses the variety of farm equipment necessary to keep the farm running. Behind the buildings is an 80 by 220 foot outdoor sand ring ready for use by dressage enthusiasts.

A regulation size large dressage ring is set up in the summer months to simulate show conditions.

The property continues as far back as the eye can see to a tree line and contains 67 total acres. Trail riding, hacks around the hay fields and cooling rides on fall days beckon to all who gaze out behind the indoor ring. At the back end of the property is an oak tree thought to be close to 175 years old based on tree width and is a home to a vast array of wildlife. Wild turkey, deer, owls, hawks and many other wild critters share the property with the horses. Highland Meadows is a magnet for animals and humans alike, a peaceful place to pursue your passion.

What's in a Name? "Jasper" By Sara Justice

Horses receive an HID number directly from USDF, happened before; my first Lita turned into Roy thanks to not through NODA, but we like to think of our the same "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em" mentality. horses as NODA members. Let us now how your horse got its official and/or barn name by e-mailing Fran Cverna at Membership@nodarider.org or call 440- 823-5965.

Sara Justice has this to say about her horse, Jasper.

I like mares. I suppose my bias comes from growing up with a mom that bred Quarter Horses and would only keep fillies for the family to ride. All of my horses while growing up were mares. My FEI Young Rider horse was a mare. The horse I did FEI Young Horse tests on was a mare. My new horse is a mare. Other than Narok, I have always shown a mare.

When I started breeding to get my next prospect, my first two foals were both fillies. Keeping with KWPN damline naming traditions, Cerolita and Elita came to be. My next foal was going to need a G name. That was easy. My filly would be Gialita, or Gia at the barn. Wolita, her dam, was due to foal just after I returned home from the D2 session of the "L" program I attended near Seattle. I knew that if the foal was born while I was near Forks, WA, the 4Hers at my barn would pressure me in to naming the foal Bella after Twilight, which was wildly popular at the time. It

Jasper has grown, I sometimes wonder if I sealed his fate with his name. He reminds me so much of the unassuming, timid yet strong gentleman that "sparkles" when seen in just the right light.

On my way home from Seattle I received a text from my dad- Wolita foaled early. He even sent pictures.... and my heart sank when Gia turned out to be a colt. The colt's registered name was easy enough. He's a Sandro Hit. I had to start with G, so Greatest Hit. But what to call the unexpected colt? GH? Great? Hitter? Nothing I came up with seemed appropriate.

At the barn, the 4H kids started going on and on about calling him Edward or Jacob, like the main characters from Twilight. Ugh. Those were almost as bad as Bella. But, there was one character in Twilight with an acceptable name- Jasper. As

Jasper has grown, I sometimes wonder if I sealed his fate with his name. He reminds me so much of the unassuming, timid yet strong gentleman that "sparkles" when seen in just the right light.

- Very Quite and Loving
- Goes to Recognized Shows
- Solid Second Level Schooling Third
- Stabled at Topline Stables at Walden

Capricious makes a wonderful show horse and great companion, he is stabled at Topline Stables in Aurora and is in training with Janeen Langowski. He likes to work and has big movements for a horse on the smaller side. Capri clips, loads, and is a great turnout partner with his buddy. He is very sweet but also knows how to show off in the shows.

2016 Schooling Shows, Behind the Scenes! By Sally Burton, Schooling Show Manager

When I took the job as the NODA schooling show manager, I was told, "This job is easy. Just set up judges, venues and be kind to people." I can honestly say there is A LOT more to it than that. But one of the best things about this job has been meeting all of the wonderful NODA members and learning about the horse show business from the inside!

I have had the pleasure of working with Jennifer "Jen" Tulleners this year. And as long as we are being honest, I will tell you I would NEVER want her job. The show secretary job is challenging. Here are SOME of the tasks and details for which the schooling show secretary is responsible.

First Jen receives all the entries via mail or email, then she has to enter each one into the computer program, making sure that it is correct. She keeps track of all the entries, Coggins tests, TIP numbers, competitor status (juniors, amateurs, professionals), who requires what, special requests and the schooling show rules. Once the entries are in the program it is not as easy as pressing a button, although far easier than hand scheduling.

Jen enters the start time for each class, calculate breaks, lunches, ring changes and personal preferences at times. She looks to see which professionals are riding more than one horse and works to ensure that their times are spread out so they can have easy transition time. She checks to make sure that amateurs are not riding their classes too spread out so they don't have to get off and get back on. She verifies the judges are getting a good mix of classes and experiences. She also checks to see that riders get the chance to ride before both judges if at all possible. Large classes are split into smaller classes so more competitors have a chance to win a ribbon. And then she emails the schedule for posting.

The fun begins after the schedule is posted. Jen receives phone calls and e-mails from competitors asking questions, requesting changes, or providing updates. Many competitors contact me as well, but I have nothing to do with scheduling so I refer them back to Jen.

2016 Schooling Shows, Behind the Scenes! (continued)

By Sally Burton, Schooling Show Manager

After the initial posting of ride times on the NODA website and after any competitor feedback, Jen reworks the schedule as necessary while attempting to accommodate any special requests. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn't. When completed, the revised schedule is sent back to our webmaster for posting.

The night before the show, Jen organizes entries with rider numbers, prints labels, and assembles tests in order of go for the show, prints class lists, and loads her truck with the supplies needed at the show. Things calm down on show day, after the initial rush in the morning of setting up, handing out numbers and handling any crises that may or may not occur. After we change the competition arenas from small to large, and the bulk of the issues have been handled, we can relax and let the show run itself with the help of all of our volunteers and Kirsten, our volunteer coordinator.

As I am writing this, we are getting ready for our last show together. Jen has decided to give up the reins of the show secretary position. Luckily Gwendolyn Samuels has stepped up to be the next show secretary.

I am so grateful to Jen for her patience with me, helping me learn my job, and letting me compete at the same time. As she moves on, I would like to publicly thank Jennifer Tulleners for her hard work and dedication to the NODA Schooling Shows for the past four years! I could not have done this job without your guidance and help this year.

We appreciate everyone's patience and understanding throughout the season as we do our best to provide and run efficient, fun, and educational schooling shows.
