NEXT MEETING

JULY 8, 6-8 pm

Greetings from the President

Hello Everyone!

I really hope everyone has survived the horrible June weather! I don't know about you, but I am really getting worried for our farmers crops, and especially HAY! Fingers crossed that July will bring sunshine and recovery from the flooding and tornados.

Competitors at the June 9th NODA Schooling Show at South farm enjoyed nice weather and beautiful show rings. I'm happy to report that the July 6th NODA Ride-a-Test Clinic at Chagrin Valley Farms was full before the close date again this year. Entries also filled very quickly for the July 7th NODA Schooling Show at Chagrin Valley Farms. Good luck to all the competitors who entered, and don't forget to Have Fun!

Our popular July NODA Recognized Shows weekend is fast approaching. Entries opened June 16th and will close July 8th for the Dressage 2019 and Dressage 2019 Encore Shows. Plans are in place to celebrate NODA's 50th Anniversary with a big party for everyone to enjoy. Come one. Come all. Let's Celebrate!

Have you signed up to volunteer for the July recognized shows yet? Sign up is available online via SignUpGenius or contact Karen at RS-Vol-Coord@nodarider.org. Volunteers are essential to every show, and they are always appreciated.

Did you participate or audit Session A of the USDF L Education Program, Part 1 hosted by NODA? Wasn't it terrific? Session B is about judging criteria for gaits, paces, movements, and figures. It is scheduled for August 17th and 18th at Endeavor Farm in Hudson, and features Trena Atkins, USEF "S" Judge. Auditors are welcome and must pre-register. If you missed auditing Session A, you won't want to miss Session B. Pre-register today! Check out www.NodaRider.org for complete program information and Auditor Application.

Did you know you can order NODA Logo stylish apparel and other NODA Logo items from Big Dee's Tack & Vet Supplies? Show your support and love of NODA and order today. The order form www.nodarider.org/2019NODA-Apparel.pdf is type and print format.

I look forward to seeing many of you at the shows this season, AND of course, our big 50th Anniversary Party Celebration during the 2019 NODA Recognized Shows weekend!

Mountain Trail obstacles teach the horse and rider pair trust, body awareness, how to effectively aid and cue the horse and points out strengths and holes in training. Each pair navigates over and under bridges, around and over mounds, and through trenches, water, poles, boulders and other natural obstacles that can be found out on trail. Obstacles were done first in hand and then under saddle.

On the final day campers rode a dressage test with obstacles. Left: Riders wait their turn. Right: The dressage arena with obstacles. Can you halt square 5 times in a test?

Dressage4Kids Winter Intensive Program for Youth

An interview with Emily Gill

What is Dressage4Kids?

Dressage4Kids (D4K) is a program to help youth riders learn how to ride and be true horsemen started by the amazing and helpful Lendon Gray, who truly cares that riders get the education and support they need to further their knowledge, wherever that may be in the equine field. D4K offers scholarships, clinics, and programs to help educate youth and have fun along the way! D4K offers the amazing Winter Intensive Training (WIT) program that is three months during the winter. Riders are selected to come to Wellington, Florida and be participate in this program. The riders train with Lendon and have so many learning opportunities as well. There is a chance to go to shows and take field trips to visit top riders facilities and go to many different events while in Florida.

How you were selected?

Lendon Gray emailed me and offered the Assistant Trainer position for the Winter Intensive Training to me and I couldn't have been more excited! I helped teach some of the riders and had the opportunity to ride some of the participants horses. It was all thanks to Lendon that I had such an amazing experience.

What were your goals for you and your horse?

Goals for my horse, Kahlua and I in Florida were to continue to get strong and learn, of course! But we have had some struggles with our piaffe for a while, so working on that was a goal as well. We are new to the Grand Prix arena and getting our scores for our gold medal was another goal. Working with Lendon and Oded Shimoni this winter really helped me achieve my goals. So much so that I was able to show Grand Prix at Global and earn one of my scores toward my gold medal! I feel that when Kahlua and

I came back to Ohio our overall contact was improved and more consistent and he feels very strong with a better understanding of the piaffe.

What is the program like?

The program is basically any equestrians dream. Being a northern girl, I was happy to skip out on the snow, and stay in the horse capital of the world, Wellington Florida.

We did everything having to do with horses and palm trees. Our daily schedule changed every day. But there was always a fitness session at some point in the day and of course a lesson. And a lot of the times we would have a field trip somewhere. We would visit a farm and watch a top rider ride or listen to a lecture about the training scale or keeping the horses fit. All ends of the spectrum are included in this program and it keeps you super busy and feels like it's too good to be true sometimes.

Emily riding Darwin, a Hanoverian Stallion, at the Hannover Verband in Verden, Germany where Emily prepared young horses for the auction hosted by the Verband.

What was the best thing about attending D4K?

There were a lot of great things about attending, but one of my favorites was getting to know all the girls who participated this year. Spending this much time with all of them we truly become a family. I feel that I have a

Schooling Show Update - South Farm 2019

We had amazing weather - sun, a nice breeze and no rain at the South Farm show on June 9. Over 50 riders signed up to brave the grass warm-up and the possibility of Amish horse and buggies driving down Bundysburg Road. I am happy to announce that we had no issues with bugged-eyed horses and no incidents. Riders had lovely rides in the well-groomed limestone and sand rings. And the show went off without a hitch. Thanks to Miranda Akins from Photography In Stride for coming to the show and taking photos. If you rode in the show, please check out her website to see yourself in action at www.photographyinstride.com!

Thanks to Our Judges

Karen Winn "R" from Lexington, Kentucky and Cory O'Connor "L*" from Laurelville, Ohio. We appreciate their time and liberal, helpful comments. And finally a big thanks to Chris Gable and Sarah Greer of South Farm for their hard work preparing the farm for our show and for being available to drag and water the ring during their hay season.

Many thanks to all who helped pull off this lovely day. We cannot run shows without all the hard work.

Our wonderful show day volunteers are listed on page 7

Upcoming Events

Next up on our schedule is the NODA Ride-a-test on Saturday, July 6, followed by the popular July schooling show at Chagrin Valley Farms. Both events are full and we look forward to seeing everyone there in July!

broader band of new friends after this program. Also, showing at Global was so much fun! The D4K barn is very close to the show grounds. So close that I could hack 15 min on a path to get there and hack 15 min back! What a dream! It was the perfect warm-up/cool down for showing.

What was your biggest eye opener?

Seeing and living in Wellington was a big eye opener. The atmosphere there is so electric and unbelievable at times. You can be walking around at the show grounds and pass an Olympian! That doesn't happen just anywhere. And watching the top competitors at the shows or at Friday Night Lights was so inspiring because you watch and listen to good riding and tips all the time. It makes me go back to the barn and try my hardest to ride like them. Being surrounded with good riding and horsemen made a big impact on my riding and career with horses.

What kind of educational opportunities did you participate in? Was it all riding?

There was a lot of riding, but it wasn't all riding. There were many times where the riding boots sat for a day so we could visit events such as the USDF Trainers Conference. Being in attendance at these events was huge to be able to watch it live and hear what the coaches had to say. I also attending three USDF Instructor Certification workshops and at the end of March took the exam and passed! The course was an amazing challenge. And amazing to have all these opportunities so close by.

Emily was the recipient of the Christian Kennedy Scholarship which made her participation as the Assistant Instructor for the Winter Intensive Training in Wellington, Florida possible.

Since you've been home, what concept or ah ha moment keeps showing up in your mind or the way you do things?

Since I have been home, I have put a lot of the things I have learned to good use. From the talks that the group went to, to lessons with Lendon and Oded I feel that I have been able to put them to good use. Also being involved in the USDF Instructors Certification, I have put to use the examiners advice to use during lessons to help my students with their horses.

Would you recommend the program?

Absolutely! It can only improve your knowledge and skills as a horseman, and you make great connections along the way! There are also scholarships that D4K offers to help riders afford to have such an opportunity. I was the recipient of the Christian Kennedy Scholarship and without this support I wouldn't have had this amazing opportunity. So, if there is will there is always a way to achieve your goals and chase your dreams!

Dressage4Kids' Mission is to encourage riders under 21 to become true horsemen; to offer scholarships; to develop good sportsmanship; to support programs for adults who in turn educate youth; and to have fun.

The Winter Intensive Training Program is not for the casual dressage rider, but for aspiring young riders who are committed to be the best they can be. This program takes determination, drive and passion. Taking place in Wellington, Florida the participants will have a full schedule of learning that includes fitness, theory, tests, riding lessons, field trips and lectures on many pertinent subjects. It involves three months (January-March) of pure growth and first-hand experience to open the young rider's eyes to what it's like to be a the best dressage rider they can be. Find out more at www.Dressage4Kids.org

2019 L Education Program

Hosted by Northern Ohio Dressage Association

August 17th & 18th

“Judging Criteria for Gaits & Paces, Movements & Figures”

Instructor - Trenna Atkins • Session B - USDF#103125

Location - Endeavor Farm

Jeffrey & Danial Rand, Owners

2910 Old Mill Road, Hudson, Ohio 44236

Trenna Atkins has been instructing and training Dressage for over 35 years, riding and competing horses from Training through FEI. She has been a USEF judge since 1986 and a “Senior” rated judge for over 20 years.

As a rider, Trenna earned her Bronze and Silver medals with USDF and has won Regional and National awards, including two National USDF Horse of the Year Awards in Musical Freestyle.

In 2003, Trenna joined the Faculty for the “L” Education Program of USDF and works every spring to develop and improve the Part 1 Education sessions.

Trenna has developed and taught Judge education for the L program, the United States Eventing Association and USEF Judge training.

“Helping judges, riders and trainers to develop their eye and understanding by using videos has been a real mix of my interest and love of dressage and computer technology. It is a great advantage to study, re-watch and slow motion the horse to better understand it. Through this I’ve developed a real love of horse biomechanics as well.”

Why be a Silent Auditor?

NODA is offering a wonderful opportunity on August 17th and 18th for all riders, teachers, coaches, trainers, barn managers, boarders, veterinarians, farriers, those who love horses, those who love dressage, those who are new to dressage, those who have been riding all their lives and anyone who seeks education and inspiration in their journey of riding.

The opportunity offered is to be a silent auditor in the L Education Program with instructor Trenna Atkins who will be teaching session B at Endeavor Farm August 17th and 18th. As an auditor, you will have the education of understanding the gaits and movements of dressage and a taste of what judging dressage is all about. This is the second session in a series of three sessions.

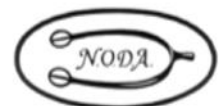

So why be a silent auditor? The answer to that question is why not. Why not surround yourself with like-minded people who all share in your interest? Why not educate yourself with an instructor who has a life time of experience and expertise in the world of dressage? Why not take advantage of knowledge and understanding of dressage at a level only offered through the L Education Program? Why not take advantage of this program at a venue who is in our backyard and who has graciously offered their support? Why not invest two days of your time, to come away with invaluable education and pearls of ideas to inspire your love of dressage? Why not set aside $75.00/day for a life changing weekend?

Tidbits From the USDF L Program - Notes From a Silent Auditor

Article and photos by Mosie Welch

As a silent auditor, I sat in the back and scribbled copious notes, and when there were rides to be evaluated by participants, I tried my eye at evaluating the ride or movement - jotting down my score with notes on how the rider could improve. It felt a little odd at first. I awaited the scores of the participants and the final determination by our instructor, Marilyn Heath. What did I learn? Well, first off and foremost - back off, "rail birds!" Judging ain't as easy as it looks. There is so much to consider in such a short time.

Three quarters of Session A was lecture augmented with videos. The videos featured all levels Training through Second level. Videos featured common errors in movements and horses and riders with a variety of gaits and skill.

Judging requires knowledge of the USEF rulebook, the ability to evaluate gaits, application of the tenants of the training scale for each movement, a working knowledge of the basic movement performed and it's qualifiers, the ability to determine correct geometry, as well as advocacy for the horse and fairness to all the riders in a class. A judge MUST in a split second - fairly and equitably, "judge what they see." Whew! Besides that, what else does a judge do?

Judges must "exemplify professionalism." The judge must be an, "advocate for the horse- first and foremost." Gaits can be irregular without appearing painful, but if a horse appears uncomfortable, a judge must disqualify the horse and rider. "Be kind to the rider, but always uphold the standards of the sport of dressage." A judge's system of evaluation must be consistent in each class. The standards of the sport are found in the USEF Rulebook and on every single dressage test form. Because trainers and riders will produce what judges reward, judges are "the guardians of good sportsmanship and correctness." The judge should apply the rules to benefit the competitor while being fair to all competitors in a class. So, if a judge "looks the other way" for one, they look the other way for all. Gaits do matter because FIRST the judge looks for the basics of the training scale, then the movements, and then the modifiers. And the judge must place each class correctly relative to the other horse and rider combinations in a class. It's important for the rider to understand their horse's gaits and understand the movement being evaluated and what modifiers add or subtract from the final score for a movement. If the movement being evaluated is a lengthening at first level, the judge will look for "lengthening of the frame and stride and the regularity and quality of the trot, straightness, and consistent tempo." The modifiers are "willing clear transitions, bend and balance in corner." Other modifiers are loss of balance and tension. And Heath stressed that each L candidate and rider must "know the meaning of the marks that are being given."

"Know the meaning of the marks and how to interpret them in a practical manner."

|----|---|
| 10 | Excellent (Heath stressed, not perfect) |
| 9 | Very good |
| 8 | Good |
| 7 | Fairly good |
| 6 | Satisfactory |
| 5 | Marginal |
| 4 | Insufficient |
| 3 | Fairly Bad |
| 2 | Bad |
| 1 | Very Bad |
| 0 | Heath's comment to participants regarding zero was, "don't go there! What is worse than Very Bad? Is the horse moving? Is it in the ring? Don't give a zero." |

Scores of 6.5 and below MUST have a comment regarding how the rider can improve that movement. An underline in the directives does NOT take the place of a comment. Formulating the right comment requires that a judge "be specific, don't teach." Judges must be concise while addressing the basics, biomechanics, criteria, and the modifiers for each movement.

The tone of comments also matters – be honest, but kind to the rider. We watched a video ride where the position of an older rider was very floppy and ineffective, the horse however was doing its job and was clearly unphased. There were murmurs of disapproval in the room, but Heath noted the age of the rider and the demeanor of the horse and indicated that the judge must give the movements the score they deserve and recognize that the horse is doing its job very well.

Heath advised participants that we need to encourage riders. The same with a stiff horse, if the horse is not uncomfortable, give the horse the marks it's gaits deserves and be happy the horse still has a job. If a horse appears to be in pain and uneven; then that is disqualifying for that test only. Remember, a judge is not diagnosing lameness, that is a Veterinarians job.

Meredith Dressing introducing her mare Lysetta before participating in the afternoon demonstration rides at Training Level.

During the Sunday afternoon demo riding session at Blue Ridge Farm, Heath had the participants evaluate and score movements from Training through Second Level tests ridden by a variety of rider and horse combinations. Scores for the same movement were all over the place, with participants assigning from a three to an eight. Heath expected participants to defend their scores. As Heath pointed out, participants come to the L Education program with a body of riding, competing, instructing, and training knowledge. The L Education Program strives to help candidates “organize their information from their experiences, provide opportunities to learn about judging, and present new materials to round out the participants understanding of dressage judging. When Heath gave a movement an 8 or 9, she would often ask the L candidate, “what would you need to see from the horse to give a score of 8 or nine?” She would also ask, “why would you take 30% or 40% from that movement? When Heath gave a 5 or 6, she would ask participants who had scored higher to review the basics of the Training Scale in relation to the horse’s gaits. Participants began to learn how to quickly observe and formulate a response like they would judging a show.

During the demo rides it became apparent that the horse’s natural gaits do count and that every score begins with the Training Pyramid. A 6 mover is probably not getting a 7 or 8 on a lengthening; but may get an 8 or 9 on a halt. Heath was comfortable with a participant score when the score was within one point of Heath’s and the participant could explain the score. Sitting in the back row and silently evaluating the movements, it became clear how much a judge observes quickly that many of us cannot. It is essential for riders to understand the Training Pyramid, read the USEF rulebook, and be knowledgeable of what is on the dressage test score sheet. Stay turned to the next issue of the NODA News for the next installment of Tidbits from the USDF L Program by a Silent Auditor.

The USDF L Education Program is designed with several goals in mind: provide trainers, instructors, competitors and spectators' insight into the evaluative techniques of judging dressage, to prepare and evaluate candidates who wish to pursue entry into the USEF 'r' Judge Training Program, and to provide continuing education for licensed judges and L graduates.

TDF Awards Grant from the U.S. Breeder Excellence Fund

The Dressage Foundation is pleased to announce that Kendra Hansis of Runningwater Warmbloods (NJ) has received a grant from TDF's U.S. Breeder Excellence Fund.

The U.S. Breeder Excellence Fund, established at The Dressage Foundation in 2011 by Abbey Henderson, then owner of Elysium Farm (MA), provides financial assistance to breeders to pursue educational opportunities related to breeding that will advance their careers, promote sound breeding practices and further enhance the quality of U.S.-bred dressage horses.

Kendra Hansis was awarded $2,400 to attend the Oldenburg Winter Meeting Breeder's Course in Vechta, Germany, December 4-7. The experience includes a tour of famous training centers in Northern Germany along with lectures and practical trainings with field experts.

"I'm beyond thrilled to receive this grant! I wish to extend my sincere thanks to The Dressage Foundation's U.S. Breeder Excellence Fund's generous donors and to the selection committee for choosing me for this wonderful award. This grant will have a resounding impact my breeding program here at Runningwater Warmbloods by providing me with direct access to the German Oldenburg Verband's educational programs, by allowing me to meet breeders from across the world, and by giving me the opportunity to visit several breeding farms in Germany. Attending the Winter Meeting has long been a dream of mine, one I can now realize with The Dressage Foundation's help. Thank you!" replies Hansis.

Applications will again be received in 2020, with a due date of May 1st. Further information about the U.S. Breeder Excellence Fund is available at The Dressage Foundation website, www.dressagefoundation.org or call (402) 434-8585.

Dear Valued NODA Supporter,

Each year as the Northern Ohio Dressage Association begins to plan our Recognized Shows we reflect on how thankful we are for our members, sponsors and advertisers. We couldn't do it without you!

This year we are excited to once again hold our Recognized Shows at Chagrin Valley Farms on July 20-21, 2019. CVF continues to improve their facility and they are looking forward to helping our show run smoothly and efficiently.

NODA is celebrating 50 years of education, schooling shows and recognized shows in Northeast Ohio! Wow, what an accomplishment. I feel that our strengths are found in our wonderful volunteers, who give not only of their time but of their talents as well, thank you. So, as we start this show season, NODA is asking for your support. Our Recognized Shows are expensive and we rely on the sponsorships of many professionals, businesses as well as individuals.

To all our returning Recognized Shows supporters, we are thankful and excited knowing that you are there continuing to help support Dressage education through NODA's scholarships, clinics and schooling shows in our area.

To all new supporters of NODA's Recognized Shows, we welcome you into the company of so many other like-minded supporters that understand the importance of Dressage education.

Attached is our 2019 Recognized Shows sponsorship form. We have made it simple for everyone to find a level that is right for them. This year being our 50th year, we are offering a new sponsorship level. It's $50 For Our 50th Year. Each $50 sponsorship will be on a special recognition page in the show program and after the show, on our website.

Let's all show our support for 50 years of fun and friendships! Please contact Christine Thompson, Sponsors@nodarider.org or Dee Liebenthal, Treasurer@nodarider.org with any questions.

Sincerely,
 Barbara Soukup, President

2003-2014	Shows at Grand Haven in Jefferson
2015-2019	Shows at Chagrin Valley Farm

Your Historian's Own Recognized Show Stories : At some point at the end of my horse Rocky's career I was excused from the show ring for lameness. I untacked Rocky and took him out to eat grass behind the barn at Lake Erie and cried my eyes out. Victoria Pirko, who I barely knew, was so kind to me. At an earlier show when Rocky was in fine fettle, the show did Championship and Reserve for highest average Training Level ride. We "almost" won Reserve – well, we got the Reserve Ribbon and I danced off to put it on Rocky's stall and went to celebrate. It turned out there was an error, and I was asked to give the ribbon back. I went to get it and Rocky had pulled it in the stall, chewed on it and stomped on it. Mary Lou Gallagher gritted her teeth and forgave me when I handed her a totally destroyed ribbon!

NODA Hosts 50th Anniversary Celebration on Saturday July 20 at the July Recognized Shows Weekend!

I have made so many friends because of NODA, lifelong dear friends and horse friends. We all share a bit of competitiveness, but mostly a love of the sport. Please come to the NODA 50th Birthday Party on Saturday July 20 at Chagrin Valley Farm – free food, musical freestyles, and a party to have fun! We'll be raffling off 2 free NODA memberships for 2020. You can get raffle tickets for knowing NODA trivia, having pictures on your phone of at least 5 NODA volunteer tee shirts, and other challenges. See you there! - Fran

USEF Safe Sport Statement

Issued by US Equestrian Communications Department, June 16, 2019

Dear USEF Members,

The recent and unexpected death of Rob Gage has been shocking to the equestrian community. Any time a life is lost, it is a tragedy. In recent days, a number of member concerns have been raised regarding processes used by the U.S. Center for SafeSport (the "Center").

There has also been an increase in the distribution of incorrect and misleading information, as well as the bullying, harassment and blaming of survivors. The facts reported in USA Today and The Chronicle of the Horse articles are consistent with the Center's response and resolution process. Information about the Center's processes and the corresponding federal law have been distributed since the Center opened and the law was enacted. This information is available through the USEF Safe Sport page and through the U.S. Center for SafeSport's website. It is important that you utilize these resources to educate yourself and your family.

USEF understands the concern raised by some of our members regarding the Center's determination process. During the investigation process, the Center ensures all parties involved are treated fairly. The Responding Party is provided an opportunity to present all information and evidence concerning the allegations and all the evidence against them is revealed to them before a decision is made as to whether a violation of the U.S. Center for SafeSport Code occurred. We believe the right to privacy the Center offers all parties is vital to a fair process. To protect the privacy of these individuals, the Center does not release information on reports they receive or details of investigations to the public. Upon making a decision, the Center will inform the parties and the NGBs of the decision. This allows an investigation to proceed without being debated in the media.

As an organization, the goal of USEF is to provide a safe and healthy sport environment for all of our athletes. We stand behind the policies, response(s), and resolution process of the Center and the absolute need for survivors of sexual abuse to have a safe environment to come forward and report abuse. We will continue to expand the resources and services we offer. Depression, suicidal ideation, mental illness, and the impact of abuse are all factors facing individuals within our sport. We will be expanding our services by adding mental health counseling resources for our members. We take SafeSport very seriously. We assure you that we are communicating to the Center our members concerns regarding process and fairness. Integrity in disciplinary processes is a priority.

Abuse has no place in sport or society and sexual misconduct and abuse of minors is intolerable in any situation. Additionally, bullying, harassing or blaming survivors is unacceptable behavior and will not be tolerated. We must stand with and support survivors, with all of our resources. If you have questions or would like additional information on SafeSport policies, please visit the USEF SafeSport page on our website which includes important helpline information for survivors of sexual abuse and suicide prevention.

Sincerely, William J. Moroney, Chief Executive Officer
